

MISS DORIS CHRISTY AND GEORGE H. CAVIN WEDDING PRINCIPALS

One of the most interesting weddings of the year took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Doris Christy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Christy, became the bride of George Harold Cavin.

The wedding was a charmingly appointed affair, taking place at 4 o'clock at the First Methodist church. The church adorned in its dignified simplicity formed an attractive background for the bridal party. The predominating note was potted palms and feathery ferns, the greenery bringing out effectively the charming color note expressed in the gowns of the bridal party.

A member of a prominent pioneer family, the lovely bride was known to many present from her childhood days. Dr. George L. Pearson, who came from San Francisco to perform the ceremony, knew the bride when she attended his church here many years ago.

The music was a delightful feature of the occasion. Preceding the ceremony, the organ played, playing Cantique d'Amour (Strang) and Wedding Intermesse (Nevin). The approach of the bride was announced by the bride's chorus from "Lohengrin," while during the service "Oh Promise Me" was played. The wedding march from "Millsome's Night's Dream" was played as the party left the church.

The bride was lovely in her lace frock over satin. Rose point lace, in the family for many years, gave an effective touch to the costume. The veil of tulle was gracefully draped and the bridal bouquet was a shower of rose buds and lilies of the valley. For her attendants the bride had her three sisters, Miss Mary Christy in pink chiffon was the maid of honor, while Miss Margaret Christy and Miss Katherine Christy were the bridesmaids. They wore frocks of yellow satin and carried roses to correspond to the color of their costumes. Joe Campbell served Mr. Cavin as best man.

A wedding supper to the bridal party followed the ceremony. The Christy residence on West Willetta street was decorated in pink roses and greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Cavin left last evening for a brief honeymoon on the California coast and on their return will take up their residence at 523 East Moreland street.

MRS. GEORGE HAROLD CAVIN

Mrs. Cavin is one of the charming members of the younger set. She attended local schools, later completing her education at the Northern Arizona Normal school. She is as lovely as she is clever and generally well liked.

Mr. Cavin, who is connected with the National Bank of Arizona, is also well known and liked here. He was graduated from an eastern university and later took a course at the state university.

University Romance To Culminate This Morning In Quiet Wedding

A romance that began when both were students at the state university will culminate in the wedding this morning of Miss Lillian Cronin, daughter of State Law Librarian and Mrs. P. Cronin, and Jack W. Still of Tucson.

Although close friends of the young folk knew of their engagement it was never formally announced and the wedding news will come as a surprise, only a few sorority sisters of the bride having been taken into the secret.

The service will be read at the Trinity Cathedral at 8 o'clock. Dean Scarlett officiating.

Miss Cronin will wear a clever frock of grey broadcloth and her flowers will be Cecil Bruner roses. Miss Margaret Cronin will be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant and Philip von Rolf will act as best man.

The young folk will leave immediately after the ceremony for Miami, where they will make their home.

The bride elect is one of the best liked members of the university set. A general favorite in social activities in the university, she also was a keen student and liked by those who gave attention to the more serious things of life. A member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, she has taken an active part in the many sorority events given during holiday week for the students vacationing at home.

In Phoenix Miss Cronin will be missed greatly and her visits will be replete with affairs by those who will regret being unable to entertain her as a bride.

Mr. Still is an engineer now in the employ of the Inspiration mine. He was exceedingly popular with the student body at the University of Arizona and a well liked member of the Sigma Nu fraternity.

DISABLED MEN SEND GREETINGS TO 'TOM'

One of the most prized holiday greetings received by Gov. Thomas E. Campbell came from the disabled soldiers in the Phoenix sanitarium, who in their December issue of "The Camp Fire" published a letter to the chief executive.

At the time the copy was written Governor Campbell was in Charleston attending the governors' conference, and the ex-service men were not aware that he would return for the holidays. He visited them at the sanitarium before he received the copy of "The Camp Fire," which reached him yesterday.

Here is the open letter to the governor which appeared:

Dear Tom:
I AM a veteran OF THE ARGONNE. TWO LOBBES OF MY RIGHT LUNG ARE GONE. I MET a friend OF YOURS when I WAS in the ARMY AND HE SAID THAT you were THE ONLY genuine DIED in the WOOL YARD wide PURE MERINO democrat EAST OF the SAN JOAQUIN RIVER. HE TALKED so nice ABOUT YOU that I DECIDED THAT if ever I GOT sick I was GOING OUT to ARIZONA. AND so HERE I am and THE BOYS all tell ME THAT I can go DOWN TO your office AND WALK right in WITHOUT EVEN seeing THE GUY that holds YOUR FIVE gallon GUMDROP. AND so I am coming DOWN SOME time when I HAVE a couple of WEEKS TO SPARE and I AM going to tell THE OTHER governors, WE DIDN'T know there WERE ANY other GOVERNORS, but we GUESS IT is all right. ONLY THAT we won't see YOU ON CHRISTMAS. SO WE wish you a MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

MUST MARK BREAD WEIGHT ON LABELS

Following a revision of sizes and weights of loaves of bread, which has just taken place among some of the local bakeries, Raymond Dyer, state inspector of weights and measures, has brought to the attention of all local bakers the fact that every loaf of bread must be marked, on loaf, label or wrapper, with its correct net weight, to conform to the state weights and measures act.

"The department realizes," stated Inspector Dyer, "that trade conditions sometimes necessitate quick changes in the sizes of loaves baked and that the baker must have time in which to secure new wrappers or labels. However, while old wrappers are being used, the old weight must be marked out and the new correct net weight affixed to loaf, label or wrapper."

"That this is a necessary regulation for the protection of the purchaser is made manifest by the fact," he continued, "that at present there are 14-ounce, 16-ounce and 18-ounce loaves on the market, all selling at approximately the same retail price. It is a matter for the purchaser to decide which loaf he wishes to purchase, but the weight of the various loaves must be plainly marked so that he can make an intelligent choice as to which quantity he prefers. Quality, of course, is also a matter to be considered, and in this connection, the department of agriculture, which is charged with the enforcement of the pure food and drugs act, defines bread as follows:

"Bread, wheat bread, white bread: The clean, sound, sweet product obtained by baking in loaf form, at a temperature of 400 to 500 degrees, a dough consisting of a leavened mixture of flour, potable water, edible fat or oil, sugar or other fermentable carbohydrate substance, salt and yeast, with or without the addition of milk or a milk product, and to contain, one hour after baking, not more than 28 per cent of moisture, nor more than one per cent of salt. Milk bread is wheat bread, in the manufacture of which the water ingredient has been replaced by milk or its equivalent."
